Extremely fine and sharp. Brass, rev. very dark, of same metal as the Rosa Americana Series. 41. 1

In the Bartlett-Warner Catalogue of a sale which I held in 1899, and where a specimen in like condition brought $27, it was said:

"This very interesting piece has the advantage over the two others which have been described to the public, in that its condition is so perfect as to admit of accurate and minute details of type, and especially to establish the engraver's initials. Betts, under his No. 165, cites the piece in the New York Historical Society and gives the initials as I. C.; thus the editors erroneously ascribed the work to John Croker. Another specimen (and in bad preservation) appeared in a sale in 1896. No other example from these dies is known to me. It was unknown to Tancred, and 'Medallic Illustrations' has no reference to it. The medal was presented to Indians at the conference with the Six Nations in 1717."
